

Did you know that you can plant or harvest something from a garden almost all year long? If you have a lot of space around your house, you can create raised bed gardens. If space is limited, you can use a large pots or buckets to create a container garden. Visit gfb.ag/vegetablegarden to learn what you can do in your garden each month of the year.